The President's Saddlebag

Karen Kimball, president PBCH 2013

The weather is sure letting us know it is fall. We had a wet Trail Challenge. Could have been worse for the 8 riders that took on the obstacles Jamie Smith set up at Farragut State Park. Thank you to her and everyone that helped with judging, office work and set-up.

Bill Clarke, Jerry Shriner and myself traveled to Nampa for the BCHI State Directors Meeting last weekend. It was a very positive meeting with lots of ideas for Chapters to take back to their members. The agenda will be reported on at our October meeting. The minutes will also be posted on the BCHI website soon. Please take the time to read these minutes as they are important to all members.

Thank you Sandy Beamer for volunteering to Trail Boss the Christmas Party. It is in December so hope we have a good turnout. It's a fun social event with recognition to our working members.

October 12 we will help to do some brushing on the 4th of July Pass trail. Watch for more details.

Hope to see you at the Steak Ride at Linscotts. Happy Trails, Karen

People meeting people

Written by Joni Lueck

Friends of and PBCH members have hosted horsemen traveling through the area this summer and acted as goodwill ambassadors for the area. The first was Terry and Dee Sverdsten of Cataldo who were on the lookout for the two young men traveling through from Gardiner, MT to Bellingham, WA on their fundraiser trek Cowboys vs. Crohn's. "I heard they were traveling up from the Old Cataldo Mission that morning and were looking to find a way to go over 4th of July Pass without riding on the interstate, he said. He watched for them and saw them coming up their Canyon Rd. "I waved my arms as they came up the road on their horses with mule in tow. "We served them blueberries and coffee. Then I saddled up and rode them up the ridge of Little North Fork of the CDA River and 4th of July Creek, Terry said. Terry, 81, rode his Palomino gelding "Chip" and spent about 5 hours in the saddle that day. "I had a fun time visiting with them," he said.

The Montana men decided to do the 1,300 mile trek this summer to raise money and awareness for Crohn's Disease. You can follow them on their website www.cowboysvsCrohn's.com

PBCH member Robin Near, who is a member of an Icelandic Horse group, hosted an Alaskan couple Pete and Alys as they traveled through with their two horses. They did ride long distance in Colorado and did some traveling around with their horses and dogs and were headed back to Alaska, she said. Robin and her husband Al offered to host them at their place for a few days and became friends from this first meeting.

Blue Creek Bay Area monthly trail ride

By Marilyn Rousher

Sunday, Sept. 8th, twelve riders showed up at the Blue Creek Bay Trail -head to tread off into the "wilderness" that PBCH helped open up last year. For those of you who haven't ridden there, this close-in ride offers an awesome variety of scenery (check out Lake Coeur D' Alene) from the bottom trail, the frog pond on the upper trail and visit the old homestead cattle chutes. There are three good trails that will appeal to all levels of riding and all distances desired. For the less ambitious a nice one hour ride along the blue diamond trail is perfect, for the more ambitious try out the orange diamond trail. Better yet, for those of you who want to really make a day of it, then try all three trails. I love this location and I love the variety of scenery and wildlife available. Parking is good down by the fishing dock (fish after your ride) or up at the main trail head. There are bathroom facilities, but no water, other than a jump in the lake if you so desire. I know I had a good time on the ride and didn't see any frowns from my vantage point at the rear. Come with us; I'd love to see you there. Marilyn

Autumn by Emily Dickinson (1830-1886)

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.

The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

The Way We Were I was talking with my husband the other day in the barn as we were opening a bag of feed. I said I remembered when the feed came in burlap sacks. The old couple who boarded my horse so many years ago always asked me to save the sacks for them and even instructed me in the proper way to open the bag to save the seam. They would use them for storing produce from their garden. My husband said his mother would save the cotton bags that chicken feed came in and make clothes for her children. The bags were colorful with many designs.

Remember taking your jar over to the neighbor's place to pick up some fresh milk? Saving cardboard egg cartons for farm fresh eggs? People who went through the Depression learned to save and reuse lots of things and pass this onto others. Have your own story? Want to share? Please send them to me. Joni Lueck, newsletter editor

Members volunteer in Montana

Written by Joni Lueck

Angie and Joyce Bissell got a call this summer to volunteer at a campground near Lee Metcalf Wilderness area outside Ennis, MT and jumped at the chance to visit.

While at their post, they volunteered their time to educate folks about riding and packing in the backcountry, maintaining the cabin, and feeding the stock animals housed there. They brought their horses and camper.

Joyce said they spent two weeks at the area and just loved it. "We met two different outfitters who were getting ready to go into the wilderness area," she said. "It was a really nice experience for us."

She was impressed with the Americorp volunteers who carried in saws and cleared trails in the area. "They worked all day carrying the saws and shovels and worked really hard. They were nice young people," she said.

They were contacted by their long-time ranger friend who asked them to come volunteer. Friends and PBCH members Bob and Lea Williams came for a visit too, she said. They missed visitors Gene and Sharon Bruce by a few hours. If you are interested in doing a volunteer stint in that area, contact Angie and Joyce at 689-3356.

Trail Challenge Fundraiser

Saturday, Sept. 28 proved to be a wet one, raining cats and dogs. A large group of volunteers from the chapter showed up at 8 a.m. to begin walking through the obstacle course and getting their assignments.

Ten hardy horseback riders competed in the course set up with 12 obstacles at Farragut State Park. It was mowed and cleaned up so the riders could see the course really well. Except for the downpour, everything else went well during the 2-hour event.

Prizes for each class included horn bags, horse feed and beverage holders.

Trail boss Jamie Kimball camped at Farragut along with her husband Stan, Bob and Linda Funke and Cindi and Matt Richardson and Karen and Jim Kimball.

"I was shocked people came out in this weather," Jamie said. But we had good volunteers and the die-hard riders came out for the event, she added.
